TELEPHONE PLAZA 763

NEW YORK, JULY 29, 1913.

The American Art Association, Madison Square, South, New York City:

DEAR SIRs—To the end that we might take advantage of an exceptional opportunity of acquiring by private purchase a large and unusually fine library, we have consigned to you for absolute and unrestricted sale at public auction a portion of our stock.

An examination of these books will show that they are not either undesirable or cheap volumes, culled from our shelves, but, on the contrary, consist of important and valuable books of interest to the collector as well as the general reader. Many of the volumes are in handsome bindings, and a large number thereof were obtained directly by us at important book sales, such as that of the late M. C. D. Borden.

Faithfully yours,

C. GERHARDT & COMPANY.

Conditions of Sale

1. Any bid which is merely a nominal or fractional advance may be rejected by the auctioneer, if in his judgment, such bid would be likely to affect the sale injuriously.

2. The highest bidder shall be the buyer, and if any dispute arise between two or more bidders, the auctioneer shall either decide the same or put up for re-sale the lot so in dispute.

3. Payment shall be made of all or such part of the purchase money as may be required, and the names and addresses of the purchasers shall be given immediately on the sale of every lot, in default of which the lot so purchased shall be immediately put up again and re-sold.

Payment of that part of the purchase money not made at the time of sale, shall be made within ten days thereafter, in default of which the undersigned may either continue to hold the lots at the risk of the purchaser and take such action as may be necessary for the enforcement of the sale, or may at public or private sale, and without other than this notice, re-sell the lots for the benefit of such purchaser, and the deficiency (if any) arising from such re-sale, shall be a charge against such purchaser.

4. Delivery of any purchase will be made only upon payment of the total amount due for all purchases at the sale.

Delivery will not be made of any purchase during the session of the sale at which it was sold.

Delivery will not be made of any purchase at any time other than between the hours of 9 A. M. and 5 P. M.

Delivery of any purchase will be made only at the American Art Galleries, or other place of sale, as the case may be, and only on presenting the bill of purchase.

5. Shipping, boxing or wrapping of purchases is a business in which the Association is in no wise engaged, and will not be performed by the Association for purchasers. The Association, will, however, afford to purchasers every facility for employing at current and reasonable rates carriers and packers; doing so, however, without any assumption of responsibility on its part for the acts and charges of the parties engaged for such service.

6. Storage of any purchase shall be at the sole risk of the purchaser. Title passes upon the fall of the auctioneer's hammer, and thereafter, while the Association will exercise due caution in caring for and delivering such purchase, it will not hold itself responsible if such purchase be lost, stolen, damaged or destroyed.

Storage charges will be made upon all purchases not removed within ten days from the date of the sale thereof.

7. Guarantee is not made either by the owner or the Association of the correctness of the description, genuineness or authenticity of any lot, and no sale will be set aside on account of any incorrectness, error of cataloguing, or any imperfection not noted. Every lot is on public exhibition one or more days prior to its sale, after which it is sold "as is" and without recourse.

The Association exercises great care to catalogue every lot correctly, and will give consideration to the opinion of any trustworthy expert to the effect that any lot has been incorrectly catalogued, and, in its judgment, may either sell the lot as catalogued or make mention of the opinion of such expert, who thereby would become responsible for such damage as might result were his opinion without proper foundation.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Buying or bidding by the Association for responsible parties on orders transmitted to it by mail, telegraph or telephone, will be faithfully attended to without charge or commission. Any purchase so made will be subject to the above Conditions of Sale, which cannot in any manner be modified. The Association, however, in the event of making a purchase of a lot consisting of one or more books for a purchaser who has not, through himself or his agent, been present at the exhibition or sale, will permit such lot to be returned within ten days from the date of sale, and the purchase money will be returned, if the lot in any material manner differs from its catalogue description.

Orders for execution by the Association should be written and given with such plainness as to leave no room for misunderstanding. Not only should the lot number be given, but also the title, and bids should be stated to be so much for the lot, and when the lot consists of one or more volumes of books or objects of art, the bid per volume or piece should also be stated. If the one transmitting the order is unknown to the Association, a deposit should be sent or reference submitted. Shipping directions should also be given.

Priced copies of the catalogue of any sale, or any session thereof, will be furnished by the Association at a reasonable charge.

Paris: Heugel & Cie, no date

ONE OF THE CHOICEST OF THE EXTRA-ILLUSTRATED BOOKS FROM THE LIBRARY OF M. C. D. BORDEN, WITH BOOKPLATE ENGRAVED BY E. D. FRENCH.

Special interest attaches to the autograph letter of Hortense, as it was written to Jeanne Françoise Julie Adelaïde Bernard Récamier, the intimate friend of Madame de Staël, courted in vain by Napoleon in 1805, and banished from Paris by him in 1811, on account of her intimacy with Madame de Staël, and other enemies of the Emperor. It is addressed in the autograph of the queen to the recipient at her salon at L'Abbaye-aux-Bols, and mentions her son, Charles Louis Napoleon [Napoleon III]. The letter commences "My dear Léonie" [probably a pet-name], "Even if I do not write, you know I am thinking of you. I know you are in the midst of your friends, and therefore as happy as you can be. Alone in this snowy and sunless region, I become very sad, and so I fear to sadden you. . . . The world forces me to forget myself. . . . Alone I go over too many painful things. With friends like you one is as happy as one can be. Sorrow becomes melancholy, for while not forgetting it, it becomes more gentle. I miss you. . . . I do not wish to speak too much of my regrets and isolation. I hope my son will not be away from me much longer. He loves our solitude, and writes that he will be glad to return to it. I painted a picture, which you will receive one of these days. I can do no better for the time being because of my poor eyes. I wanted to prove to you that I am thinking of you, and hope that you will never doubt my feelings," etc.

The letter, signed, of Napoleon III. is on military affairs, granting a reprieve to drum-major Dubois. It is signed as "President of the Republic."

The letter, signed, of Louis Bonaparte, is a personal letter to M. Larrey, chief surgeon, regarding the advancement of the recipient's cousin.

FIRST EDITION of one of the most valuable contributions to Colonial History. The author had experience in the public records of the colony, and in treating of the institutional life of the colony and its first settlers, he gives ample data from original sources. The section on the Indians is particularly full and satisfactory, being based on Smith's and Hariot's accounts and illustrated by DeBry's engravings. This is an exceptionally fine copy, except that the frontispiece and a portion of the table are in facsimile, but so expertly done as hardly to be detected.

It is an unusual occurrence when a book formerly owned by Fitzgerald occurs for sale in a perfect condition, as his manner was to take the pages containing passages that pleased him from various works, and to bind the whole of those selected, with pictures, some of which were obtained from other sources, into volumes, which he facetiously called his "works". This work, which is one of the most beautiful of his compositions, was written during his residence in Germany, 1888. The text and titles are taken from Margaret Deland's poems: "The Pansy," "The Myrtle," "The Clover," "The Yellow Daisy," "The Blue Bell," and "The Mignonette."

An exceedingly fine specimen of the medieval manuscripts. The Bible commences with the Proverbs and continues to the end of the Apocalypse, with an elaborate table of contents and other indices. At the end, the scribe signs himself "Jacobus Prymkonaw," and states that he completed this manuscript on Christmas Eve, 1425. Dated and signed manuscripts of this period are very rare, and so fine a specimen as this, every page of which is clean and perfect, is seldom found.

PRESENTATION COPY FROM THE AUTHOR, WITH INSCRIPTION IN HIS AUTOGRAPH, "For Mr. Comerford from I. W." In writing the inscription, Walton started too far to the right of the page, at first attempt, and had room for only "Comerfo—"; he then repeated the "For Mr. Comerford" on the following line. This volume bears the book-plate of Mr. James Comerford, who has written on the inner cover: "Presentation Copy with Walton's Autograph to one of my ancestors of the extinct Staffordshire Branch, probably Robert Comerford of Comberford, Staffordshire, the last of the Staffordshire stock. See the Pedigree, page 434 of Vol. I of Shaw's Staffordshire."

Walton presented copies of his various works to his friends, hence volumes with his inscription are not unusual, but we can find no trace of another presentation copy of this work, which was printed for Marriot, who published the First "Angler" in 1653.

The volume itself is in reality the FIRST EDITION of Walton's Life of Donne, although an abridged version appeared with the Sermons of Donne, 1640.

He died in Philadelphia, August 23, 1813.
